

PENDLETON WHISKY – TASTING NOTES

P E N D L E T O N
W H I S K Y
Real. Pure.

ORIGINAL

NOSE: Vanilla, honey, butterscotch, custard, and marzipan.
Hint of freshly grated nutmeg and cracked cinnamon bark.

PALATE: Warm fall fruits and honey are balanced with a hint of spice to balance the flavor.

FINISH: A medium balance and smooth finish.

DRINK STRATEGY: On the rocks. It mixes well with simple cocktails like Ginger Ale and Pineapple, but stands on its own when tasted neat or with water.

MIDNIGHT

Musky notes of leather with warm cinnamon, nutmeg, cloves and a trace of ginger; finished with subtle undertones of dried fruit.

Full, well-balanced oak is paired with hints of coffee cake, nuts, caramelized bananas and candied figs for a complex flavor.

A full-bodied and satiating finish with a lingering smolder of spices, pecans and walnuts.

Neat or paired with classic ingredients such as bitters and citrus, allowing the rich and well-balanced flavor of the whisky to remain on the palate.

1910

NOSE: Well rounded and full-bodied, the aromas of nutmeg, cloves, and cinnamon, with hints of dried pineapple. A prominent undertone of spiced and charred oak.

PALATE: Myriad of fruit and spice. Apples and dried cherries are at the starting gate, with nutty toffee notes coming in swiftly from behind.

FINISH: A medium dry finish with lingering tart cherry, Pendleton 1910 is ever changing and ever evolving. It's an enigma that beckons and appeals to the discerning whisky connoisseur.

DIRECTOR'S RESERVE

Toasted coconut, freshly grated cinnamon, warm oak, vanilla, and orange zest all combine gracefully to form a balanced and refined aroma.

A full-bodied and satiating finish with a lingering smolder of spices, pecans and walnuts.

A long, mature and smooth finish.
