

Stella Artois

Stella Artois is part of a rich Belgian brewing heritage dating back as early as 1366. Its legacy of quality and sophistication is reflected in the iconic chalice specially designed to enhance all of the senses, with a unique shape that heightens the aroma and a stem that keeps the beer colder longer. Stella Artois is still brewed using the finest natural ingredients in the tradition of hand-crafted luxury. Today, Stella Artois is the No. 1 Belgian beer in the world and served in over 90 countries

Did you know?

Stella Artois was first brewed in October 1925 as a special holiday beer. It was named after the Christmas star, with "Stella" being the Latin for "Star". The beer was so well received that it became available through the year.
