WHY HUCKLEBERRY?

As the official state fruit of Idaho, the huckleberry has been called “purple gold” for its delicious taste and for its rarity. Our natural Mountain Huckleberry Flavored Vodka is blended with quality Potato Vodka for a smooth, natural flavor.

TASTING NOTES

Ripe, plump berry notes on the nose. A hint of tart and sweetness on the palate, and an aromatic silky smooth finish.

America's finest Huckleberry Flavored Vodka can only come from one place—Idaho. As the birthplace of the rare Mountain Huckleberry, Idaho lends its rich terroir to the development of our all-natural Huckleberry Flavored Vodka. Our people; our fresh ingredients; our story, all are crafted in the abundant state of Idaho.

PREMIUM INGREDIENTS

Idaho Mountain Huckleberries Certified NON-GMO and Gluten Free

A small percentage of all vodka produced worldwide is huckleberry flavored. Idaho Huckleberries are naturally gluten free and Non-Gmo.

Natural Water Source

Vodka is 60% water. As the snow caps of the Grand Tetons Mountains melt, the water gathers into the Snake River Aquifer where it naturally filters through 200 feet of porous, volcanic rock before reaching our 200-foot well.

Grains vs. Potatoes

Grains including wheat, corn, rye, barley and oats produce a recognizable harsh "bite" and coarse finish. Potatoes bring a subtle flavor and mellowness, and sweetness to vodka from the natural created during distillation. We add no additional sugar to the vodka, which keeps it at the lowest possible 57 calories/oz.
