THE LEGEND OF 1952:

Long drinks go back to the 1952 Summer Games in Helsinki, when the small Nordic country was still recovering from World War II

Worried how to serve drinks quickly enough to visitors, the government came up with a revolutionary new drink that was both delicious and fast to serve and called it "long drink".

Over 65 years later, this legend is brought to America by four friends who want the world to experience the unique Finnish Long Drink.
