First brewed in 2009, Daisy Cutter Pale Ale has been the foundation for the Half Acre House of Pale Ale fever ever since. The judicious use of Centennial, Columbus, Simcoe and especially Amarillo provides aromas of blended pine, citrus, papaya and mango. While hops are forefront, the use of specialty malts provide balance. An obscenely dry finish clinches its relationship with beer drinkers of all ages. Every single type.

HOPS: Amarillo, Centennial, Columbus, Simcoe

MALT: 2-row, Victory, Special Roast, Aromatic

APPEARANCE: Burnt orange with a slight haze
