

BORN 1808  REBORN 2012

AN AWARD WINNING PEATED VINTAGE BLEND OF SELECTED AGED MALT AND GRAIN WHISKEYS.

TASTING NOTES

Nose: The lightest imaginable phenol drifts over the nose like glider over the Antrim coast. Quiet and barely noticeable unless you look for it, but what it surveys is rather beautiful.

Palate: Stunning texture, a mix of light ulmo honey and mocha makes for the friendliest and most beautiful delivery and follow through. The deft smoke drifts about without portfolio.

Finish: Long, slightly fruity now, with a lovely balance of stone fruits and sherry influence, which linger delightfully before finally giving way to rich mocha and that wonderful final kiss of smoke.

Balance: Even people purporting not to like peaty whiskey will have a problem finding fault with this. This is a rare treat of an Irish.
