Bourbon

Taste The American Spirit

DG Bourbon Whiskey is handcrafted using local ingredients from the Driftless Region of Wisconsin. This region is distinctive to the rest of the world because of the combination of temperature, water and soil. Distilled from corn and aged in a new American Oak Barrel, the DG Bourbon Whiskey offers a well balanced profile of vanilla and caramel, with soft hints of charred oak.

Rye Whiskey

Bottled at Cask Strength

Driftless Glen Young Rye is the first whiskey our distillery has bottled. Our Young Rye is 75% rye. We chose to bottle at cask strength to preserve the flavors of a young product.

Each barrel of rye that is bottled is hand picked. We don't believe in cut and dry age statements or proofs, rather we rely on taste. Every Friday the team at DG taste a number of barrels and only one or two are selected for bottling. Our distillers hand write on each label which batch your whiskey is from to keep to our hand crafted beliefs.

We hope that the complexity of flavors in our Young Rye will serve as a preview of what's to come with our longer aging whiskeys.
